THE 1945

ACADEMY

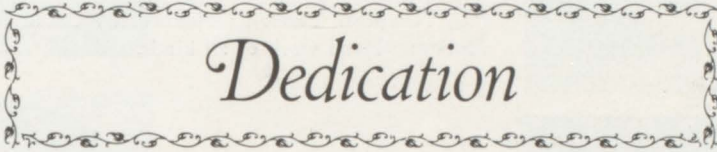

HE

RALD

Lieutenant Edmund J. Vachon

Dedication

We, the Class of 1945, respectfully dedicate this 59th issue of THE ACADEMY HERALD to Lt. Edmund J. Vachon in happy memory of the three and a half years during which he taught French and was senior master at Gould Academy. We are ever reminded of his splendid abilities and his characteristic smile of good will as we wish him the success he so richly deserves wherever he may be in the service of our country.

A Year at Gould Academy

1944-5

Commencement, 1944

As another class prepares to leave Gould Academy, let us recall the eventful week-end of June 10-12, 1944.

The customary class day exercises were held on Saturday, June 10, at Hanscom Hall. The spirited class led by their marshall, Richard Bryant, presented an excellent program, memories of which will linger long in the hearts of the participants.

Words by Ruth Marriner

The Senior Reception in the Wm. Bingham Gymnasium brought the day to a perfect close, for the gaiety of the class of '44 far surpassed the lurking sorrow of departing.

The Baccalaureate sermon was given by Rev. John J. Foster on Sunday in the Congregational Church. A choir of undergraduates directed by Miss Griggs led the service.

Later that day the alumni, faculty, parents, and members of the graduating class were invited to the headmaster's tea at his home.

In the evening the alumni and undergraduates of Gould Academy presented a very successful musical concert in the Congregational Church. The soloists were Ilene Goodrich, Laurel Clements, Shirley Read, and Stanley Davis.

On Monday the graduation took place. As the Gould Orchestra played a march from "La Propete," by Mayerbeer, the 65 solemn graduates marched into the gymnasium. How well they knew the world of sorrow and heartache they were entering upon graduation.

After the assembly sang the "Star Spangled Banner", Mrs. Mary S. Gibson gave the invocation.

"For What Are We Fighting" was the subject of the commencement speakers, the first of which was the salutatory, by James Reid, followed by an orchestral selection, "Lohengrin", by Wagner.

The honor essay was presented by Barbara Coolidge, after which the Boys' Glee Club sang "Stout Hearted Men", by Romberg.

Anne Aldrich gave the valedictory address and the Girls' Glee Club rendered "Fly, Singing Bird", by Elgar.

The Commencement address, by the president of the Bowdoin College, Kenneth C. M. Sills, L.L.D., was entitled "Shall We Cooperate, or Shall We Obstruct."

The Varsity Glee Club gave a selection, "Ode to American", by Noble Cain, and Headmaster Elwood F. Ireland awarded the honors and diplomas.

The benediction was given by Rev. John J. Foster, and the recessional concluded the graduating exercises after which was held the annual Alumni Luncheon at the Marian True Gehring Students' Home.

During the afternoon the baseball team concluded its season by beating the squad from Gorham, N. H., in a game postponed from Saturday.

Thus, on June 12, 1944, Gould Academy saw another class leave her halls of learning, fully prepared for the life ahead of them.

MUSA SWAN '45

CLASS OF 1946

With the Juniors

Here's the largest class in Gould back again as juniors.

This year we chose our class officers as follows:

President	Gordon Lawry
Vice President	Donald Brooks
Secretary	Marie White
Treasurer	Bill Hastings

Our class colors are maroon and cream, and our motto is "Truth shall make you free."

Our class has been well represented in all school activities, and many members have been prominent both in music and in sports.

Now let's meet the class of '46.

BILL ANDERSON
"Me and Marie"

LOUISE BACON
"Just a little bit north of Alabama,
That's where I'll find Johnny!
Way down there in Tennessee,
That's where my heart longs to be!"

MARGARET BAKER
"There are smiles that make us happy."

PAULINE BAKER
"For I am a jealous woman."

FRANCIS BEAN
"Three cheers for the navy."

SADIE BEAN
"Take it easy."

COLLEEN BENNETT
"Always ready to do her part
She helps you from the bottom of her heart."

DAN BENNETT
"Let the rest of the world go by,
For happy and glad am I."

ROBERT BENNETT
"Silence is golden."

MARTIN BOVEY
"Koon's camera'll get you if you don't watch out!"

BILL BOWMAN
"To know a thing is nothing
Unless others know you know it."

WILLIS BROOKE
"Red hair—beware!"

CAROLYN BRYANT
"Smart and little;
Friendly and wise.
If anything's to be done,
Carlie tries."

JEAN CHIPMAN
"Not so very short,
Not so very fat.
But rather tall and slim.
Always full of joy and cheer
And funny to the brim."

JUDITH COLE

"If you like to laugh you'll have fun with Judy."

LEWIS COLE

"They took coal away from us
But Cole is with us still."

BOBBIE CORSON

"We have heard that beauty and brains go together."

RICHARD CRAM

"And they may change their minds—those who say they do not like to 'cram.'"

POLLY CRANE

"Just an old-fashioned girl with an old-fashioned smile."

LEWIS CURTIS

"Ain't you glad that you are single."

PEARL DAYE

"With a song in her heart
And a song on her lips."

EDDIE DORION

"I will hitch my skis to the stars."

EARL DORR

"He that hath knowledge spareth his words."

TED EMERY

"An A + a day keeps the warnings away."

CARROLL FITZGERALD

"Ambition is not his goal."

JOHN FORBES

"Who's afraid of the big bad wolf?"

HELEN FOSTER

"More darn fun!"

BARBRO FREEZE

"Don't let the name get you.
She's anything but cold."

ALAN FULLER

"Slow but sure."

RUTH GARBER

"It is a woman's privilege to change her mind."

FRANK GIBSON

"For he's a jolly good fellow."

PRISCILLA GOGGIN

"I will sing thee a song."

JOHN GREENLEAF

"Great oaks from little acorns grow."

LESLIE GRIFFIN

"She's quiet and she's shy
But there's mischief in her eye."

"DEDI" GRIFFIN

"Gone, but not forgotten."

VIRGINIA HASTINGS

"And we shall weight the pros and cons."

BILLY HASTINGS

"The bashful boy with the handsome grin."

PHIL HEATHCOTE

"The gesture is the thing."

MARGERY ANN HOWARD

"With my head in the clouds."

FRANK HUNT and DONALD BROOKS

"Frankie and Donnie."

BEATRICE JORDAN

"Dynamite comes in small packages."

STANLEY JUDKINS

"O me, O my; it's just little me."

LAWRENCE KENDALL

"Kendall's got what gets 'em every time."

FREDERICK KNEELAND

"We have named the man.
We need say no more."

MARION LAPHAM

"Little, now; little then;
Little forever; Amen."

NELLIE LAPHAM

"How many heart's have you broken?"

GORDON LAWRY

"He's got what it takes."

SUKEY LINSLEY

"Giggling will do you a world of good."

EILEEN LITTLEHALE

"On the sunny side of the street."

LARRY LITTLEHALE

"Postman, where's my letter?"

ELIZABETH LOWELL

"The number of letters 'Eppie' gets from service men would certainly surprise
you."

LUCIA MCCLINTOCK

"A pretty girl is like a melody."

BETTY MARSHALL

"But we don't talk about that."

JOHN MARSHALL

"Who can tell what good may spring
From such a very little thing."

"FLIP" MORSE

"I'm happy, I'm carefree
Nothing ever bothers me."

JEAN MURPHY

"Laugh like 'Murph', and have fun.
After all, you won't always be young."

JOYCE MURPHY

"Eternity is before us. Why hurry?"

GRACE MURRAY

"'Marcy's' a friend both for sport and earnest."

LENDALL NEVENS

"A little on the lonely side."

ADELBERT NORWOOD

"I don't want to set the world on fire."

IRENE OLSON

"Where there's a will there's a way."

BOBBIE PACKARD

"They say she knew much that she never told."

ROGER PINKHAM

"Ask the professor."

JOAN POTTER

"Dickie's a girl we're glad to know,
We'll sure hate to have her go."

PRISCILLA RING

"Advice to the lovelorn."

BUSTER ROBERTSON

"Greater things have come from littler men than he."

HELEN ROBERTSON

"A merry heart doeth good like a medicine."

ANDY SARGENT

"We call it art for Art's sake!"

VIRGINIA SCATTERGOOD

"She follows where Disney leads."

JANE SCOTT

"Latin is Spanish,
And Spanish is Latin;
But both are Greek to me."

KAY SHAUGHNESSEY

"We're awfully glad you came
And we hope you feel the same."

MARION SILVER

"They told me to look in a history book
So I look there every noon."

BETTE SMITH

"Forty days and forty nights
She watched her wretched friends,
And now she never dares to act
As funny as she can."

ALBERT SMITH

"For he was a son of the soil
But he loved the village belle."

RICHARD SPRAGUE

"Of quiet thoughtfulness."

DEXTER STOWELL

"We all look up to Dec."

HOLLIE STURGIS

"Want a laugh?
Well, here you have it!"

ANN TERRIBERRY

"Charms strike the sight, but merits win the soul."

CLARE TYLER

"And she while her companions slept,
Was toiling upward in the night."

CAROLYN VANDUSEN

"Way down there in Carolina."

MARY WARD

"You don't know her yet?
Well, you'll be surprised."

MARIE WHITE

"Waltz me around again, Willie!"

CAROL WIGHT

"A little nonsense now and then,
Will do no harm to the best of men."

As for myself—

"I dare not assert lest I err."

HEADMASTER'S HOME

FRESHMAN CLASS

With the Freshmen

The number of members in the class of 1948 has changed many times during the year. At present there are 52 freshmen. At the beginning of the year the following officers were elected:

President	Ruth Judkins
Vice President	Richard Melville
Secretary	Jessie Wermenchuk
Treasurer	James Browne

Our class colors are cherry-red and white, and our motto is "Carpe Diem", ("Seize the Opportunity"). The class of '48 is striving to be an outstanding class, one that will be remembered. Here are our members:

Sally Adams
Her talents are many and varied indeed,
Whatever her goal, we know she'll succeed.

William Adams
Not sometimes tiresome like the rest,
A reticent boy is often the best.

George Barlow
Little gremlins spring when they see him pass,
They make him forget all his work for class.

Caroline Bean
A quiet girl, yes, that is true,
But a friendlier one you never knew.

Norma Bean
To know her as she lives each day
You'd never guess her bashful way.

Roger Beedy
If helicopters come, we fear
He'll be the first to have one here.

David Bennett
Whatever you do, come flood or war,
Keep the wolves away from her door.

Kathleen Brooks
Katy's friends are many and true,
May her trials in life be but few.

Leland Brown
When Mike gets stuck and can't get out,
You'll have to push, without a doubt.

James Browne
If you like good fun and laughter
You'll remember Jimmy ever after.

Arthur Coolidge
Roosevelt's ardent supporter is he
In the faith he will bring us victory.

Constance Coolidge
I don't let anything bother me much
Not even when I find that I'm in dutch.

Charles Conrad
If someone's needed to get things done
Then "Fuzzy's" surely the perfect one.

- Robert Croteau
The angels above us have wings, 'tis true;
When he jumps, we wonder if he has, too.
- Wilma Croteau
Willie's cousins are many, we're sure,
But we find her friends are even more.
- Ann Cummings
A jolly good sport, and lots of fun—
Take it from the freshmen—We're glad you're one.
- Nancy Davis
She believes in keeping a weather-eye cast,
Opportunity will find her; it has in the past.
- Barbara Dougherty
Laughing and joking every minute!
A happy group? She must be in it.
- Avis Enman
Teachers just won't understand the cause,
They're bound to detect the moving jaws.
- David Foster
A worthwhile smile
Is always in style.
- Robert Grover
You can go anywhere you wish on a friendly grin,
In the game of life you can't help but win.
- Quentin Hall
Fairly dependable, so we have heard;
A boy who always keeps his word.
- Diana Howard
What does it matter if one's a few minutes late;
There should be a rule to make classes wait.
- Jessie Jones
A songbird rare
Need never despair.
- Marvin Kendall
In future years, if you are sick;
Just call for Marvin; he'll come quick.
- Barbara Learned
A mind of your own is a virtue true
If you know how to use it—and you surely do.
- Geraldine Linnell
Nice things come in small packages, you see;
You'll agree there's a perfect illustration in me.
- Margaret Mayer
Always a ready, happy smile
Helping to make other lives worthwhile.
- Betty McAllister
What we haven't figured out to date
Is how she keeps those addresses straight.
- Irving McAllister
They say he's very bashful indeed,
But this we find is hard to heed.
- Richard Melville
His voice is just about on the rim
Of being a bit too big for him.
- Mary Jane Mitchell
As pleasant a person as you'll ever find,
"Mitch" surely is one of the very best kind.
- Lilla Morse
Movies and dancing are Tura's delight
That is, of course, if the escort is right.
- Carolyn Noyes
Sewing, when it is well done,
Can certainly be a lot of fun.
- William O'Brien
Want to know the weather on a certain date?
Ask Billy; he'll tell you for a moderate rate.
- Gertrude Penner
A sweet disposition, a helping friend,
Our Trudy has plenty of friendship to lend.
- Mark Rines
You can't see who the boy is, as it's a little dark?
If his hands are in his pockets, then it must be Mark.
- Charles Ross
The place I like to be the most
Is near the stern and rock-bound coast.
- Erland Scribner
Work hard, find success:
This leads to happiness.
- David Stone
If he should have nightmares, they'd take the form
Of verbs and nouns running 'round the dorm.
- Barbara Storey
Roommates can be an awful trial
Yet they come in handy once in a while.
- Edwin Swain
A familiar sight—you must have seen it before
Is Eddie's bike, parked by the gym door.
- Carol Swan
No one is sane who care for boys,
All they are good for is making a noise.
- Harry Swan
A quiet person to all around,
Algebra's where his talent is found.
- Evelyn Vinton
Glad to give, glad to share.
Lyn exceeds most everyone there.
- Barbara Waite
While some must lead, the others will state
That following well is a likeable trait.
- Mary Wentzel
You're certain to like her from the start
And if you let her, she will steal your heart.
- Jessie Wermenchuk
A girl who is liked by one and all
We're glad she's here at Hanscom Hall.
- Florence West
She blushes easily, this you will find.
What ever can she have on her mind?
- Paul Wight
Paul's a very good chauffeur—or so we hear
So his life should run smoothly—in high gear.
- Theodore Young
If basketball stars capture a girl's heart
We'll agree that Teddy has a good start.

A Student's Diary

SEPTEMBER 12: Gould Academy opened its doors for the 107th year of its history today with an enrollment of 250, including students from Florida, Michigan, North Carolina, and Canada.

SEPTEMBER 30: The Freshman Party, the first of its kind, was held in the gym tonight. Here the freshman class was given an official welcome by the members of Gould's various organizations. Skits were presented by The Blue and Gold and the Dramatics Club, while representatives of Gould's sports and other activities told of the interests and work of their groups.

OCTOBER 7: Parents' day was observed today, and 20 or more fathers and mothers arrived to admire the Gould campus, Bethel, and their children. In the afternoon, an exciting football game was played against Fryeburg, and in the evening a tea was given for parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ireland.

OCTOBER 18: The first of a series of speakers was heard this evening. He was China's Dr. Tayhi Hsieh, who talked on the timely and interesting topic of China in relation to world democracy.

NOVEMBER 7: This evening, a representative of the National Audubon Society, Bert Harwell, gave a very lively and interesting lecture on wild life, accompanied by a technicolor movie on the same subject.

NOVEMBER 18: The Girls' Athletic Association gave a party this evening which was loads of fun and a great success. The gym was decorated to give the atmosphere of a farmers' carnival, and all attending were dressed accordingly. Numerous games occupied most of the evening, and the traditional class skits were presented later, the juniors carrying off the prize.

NOVEMBER 22: Yippee! We go home for our Thanksgiving turkey this year.

NOVEMBER 28: Well, here we are back again, full of turkey and ready for six weeks' tests.

DECEMBER 16: This evening the first formal dance of the year was held in the gym to the music of Ronnie Chase's orchestra. The colorful decorations, the refreshments, the music, and the party atmosphere all helped make the evening a successful one.

DECEMBER 21: School's out! (for a while).

JANUARY 9: Today marks the beginning of the winter term. After the long Christmas vacation, everyone is all set to get down to work for the eventful weeks to come.

JANUARY 13: There was a skating party, sponsored by the Outing Club, at Paradise skating rink this evening. Records supplied music for waltzing, while the boys' dormitory offered sandwiches, cocoa, and dancing for the returned skaters.

JANUARY 29: A new, but well-known and liked, member of the faculty appeared this morning. He is Mr. John Foster, Bethel's Congregational minister, now a teacher of ancient history at Gould.

FEBRUARY 1: This afternoon Dr. Charles Phillips, president of Bates College, spoke to us on "Why Education is Necessary to Maintain a Lasting Peace." Although short, his speech was timely, interesting, and entertaining. This evening the seniors were invited to coffee at the headmaster's home, where they had the opportunity to meet Dr. Phillips.

FEBRUARY 21: Wing Tsit Chan, a speaker from China, gave an interesting lecture this evening on his native country, revealing many heretofore unknown, and some rather startling, facts about China's relationship with other countries.

FEBRUARY 23: Carnival Ball! At last the biggest dance of the year has come. This evening in the beautifully decorated gym the Carnival Ball and the Coronation of the Carnival Queen, Mary Swasey, took place. Music was furnished by Lloyd Rafnell and his orchestra.

MARCH 9: The much-publicized and anticipated Sadie Hawkins dance was held tonight in the gym. The hilarious party, sponsored by the Year Round Club, in which the girls did all the chasing, procuring of corsages, and escorting, was a great success.

As can be seen, this year has been an eventful one, packed with the many interests and activities Gould has to offer.

Those who will be in the far corners of the world next year will always cherish the never-to-be-forgotten experiences they have had at Gould, while those who will be here are looking forward to another memorable year.

JEAN MURPHY '46

Marian True Gehring Student's Home

Take a deep breath, everybody, because we're going on another of those famous tours of the girl's dorm,

As we walk in past that most popular of all spots, the mail boxes, we find our busy, competent housemother, Mrs. Goggin, in her apartment with a view, soothing a clamoring group of Gehringites with her usual motherly calm.

Walking thru the dining room to the other corner apartment, we find Miss Griggs, who adds many a cheerful note to school life.

Coming up the back stairs (quietly, because we aren't supposed to use them) to third hall, we hear Diana Howard singing happily in her infirmary abode. As we stick our head in, she wants to know if we've read "Disraeli," but we haven't, so she turns away in despair. In the coveted corner room live Martha Waterhouse and Frances Vinton. They're studying at the moment, so we'll leave them in peace and go on to the next room, where we see Edith Randall faithfully keeping her memory book up to date. Her roommate until spring vacation was Mary Wentzel, who, they tell us, has an affinity for red-heads and tall, lanky guys.

Nancy Davis and Connie Beeken are the next pair. Nancy is drawing one of her innumerable pictures of horses, while Connie is telling her all about Michigan, from which state Connie is absent in body but not in spirit. We zig-zag down the hall and come to a front room where Leslie Griffin is drinking tomato juice and trying to concentrate on French. Something seems to be distracting her, though. Could it be the pictures on her desk? Her roommate, Polly Crane, has just come in with a Hop(py), and is now drinking tomato juice, too.

In a back room again, we see Barbara Storey, who is reading a voluminous pile of funny books, while her roommate, Gerry Linnell, is practicing her clarinet with a dreamy look in her eyes. Is it Bob? Sally Adams and Bobbie Galbraith have just come in their front room with an armful of groceries which will disappear very quickly after lights. Must be mice we hear scuttling around up there at night. Opposite them Barbara Corson is working on her latest poster, while telling her roommate, Shirley Scott, what George said in his letter. Shirley still can't get over that snow.

Better duck into the next room, because oranges are flying back and forth across the hall. In the front room Helen Smith is happily dropping things on any second haller who is dumb enough to stick her head out the window, while Janice Bowman is gazing raptly out the window at someone going by.

Hearing a great commotion in the next room we look in and see those two belles from Poland, Maine, arguing over some vital matter, probably about who should clean up the oranges. At the end of the little hallway on our right live Miss Hinkand so we'll leave her to dream. A joyful shriek and a giggle from the next room tell us that Sukey Linsley and Priscilla Goggin live there in their spare moments, which aren't many.

In the first room down the little side corridor we find Ruthmarie Malnati, the gal who lives alone and likes it. She's chortling with glee over the latest bit of foolishness.

Miss Gallagher and Christine Hanson live behind that glass door. They're both kept pretty busy, Christine with her long distance telephone calls and Miss Gallagher with keeping order on second hall.

As we come out into the main corridor again the first room we see belongs to Patsy Duncan and Barbaro Freese. They are ley and Miss Swift, but they don't seem to be at home, so we'll look in on Grace Murray and Ginny Conrad. "Back Beat Boogie" is playing full force, while Ginny is writing a certain letter and Grace is pondering on her many men.

Betsy Grandin keeps third hall supplied with the latest records. Betsy Norton is the girl from Wiscasset. She's also an unofficial worry bird, they say.

The corner room with the beautiful fur rugs belongs to Ann Terriberry and Marie White. Those rugs must be awfully handy on cold nights.

The first room we come to on second hall is the corner one with a view of the athletic field and the boy's dorm. Pam Parsons and Marilyn Burrill live here. Pam is well known for her ability to get up in the wee hours of the morn without flinching, at least not visibly. Marilyn is re-reading her latest letter from U. of M.

faithful roommates, having stuck together for two years. When anything is up, they're in there pitching, you can be sure. Opposite them live Bobbie Packard, who is the upholder of the La Tuque tradition, and Virginia Scattergood, who is a talented artist with a great interest in Bowdoin College.

The next room belongs to Judy Cole and Joan Potter (Dickie). Dickie is chuckling with triumphant glee, having just put something weird in Joan Allen's bed. Judy's strange collection of scrap iron has just fallen with a crash from the curtain rod, and Judy is diving under the bed for it. Joan Allen and I live in the front room. Joan has just found Dickie's little present and is about to return it with personal touches.

Terri Ralph is in deep concentration on her solid geometry in the next room, and Stan Howard is feverishly ready Gone

With the Wind and can't stop.

Betty Gibbs and Jean Chipman have a perpetual mischievous gleam in their eyes, which means they're ready for anything that comes along if it promises fun. Jean Murphy and Mary Swasey are next, and they're about as hilarious a pair as possible. Mary humours Murph along, and vice versa, and they get along fine.

Carolyn Van Dusen, the pride of the Southland, and her roommate, Kay Shaughnessy, aren't the noisiest two on second, but when that ouija board was around plenty went on. We hear Irene Olson's guitar strumming occasionally from the room around the corner where she and Eileen Littlehale live.

As we get to the door of the teachers' rooms, who should come out but Miss Watson, Miss Hinckley, and Miss Swift, off for one of their jaunts together. Miss Newman lives here, too, and right now she's thinking of spending the summer on Pike's Peak, for the skiing, of course.

Jane Scott, the other sister from Florida, and Lucia Maclintock, our little ray of sunshine from Princeton, N. J., live in the very last room at the end of the hall, but that certainly doesn't mean they don't get around.

Last but not least by any means are the girls who live at Mr. and Mrs. Ireland's, Dot West and Elaine Vail, and those who live at Mrs. Vachon's, Jessie Jones, Evelyn Vinton, Florence West, and Margaret Mayer, who was a newcomer at Christmas.

That's all for this year, folks; it's been a year to remember. See you at the next dorm meeting.

MARY SUE ADAMS '45

Holden Hall

HOLDEN HALL is almost six years old, but it still seems to be in pretty good shape. An unusually large number of new boys found their way to the big white door last fall and gaped forlornly at the shiny corridors and immaculate walls of the dorm. It wasn't long, though, before everybody was acquainted with each other and the pool table.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, and Mr. and Mrs. Clunie were found to occupy the same suites as they had the previous spring. The ladies were just as obliging and industrious as ever in preparing refreshments for the parties at which the school's guest speakers were entertained.

The draft began taking its toll in November when Bill Swasey received his orders from the Army Air Corps. "Big Bill," strong man on the football team and well liked in the dorm, left just before Thanksgiving vacation.

It was about this time also that the smudge fires in the smoking room began to worry Mr. Scott, the dorm master. The select group of juniors and seniors who used this hazy inner sanctum quickly discovered that there is a place in the building to empty waste-paper, and they weren't bothered for the rest of the year.

Later Mr. Scott commented that they had kept the room cleaner this year than he had seen it before.

Operations continued in the dorm's darkroom as in previous years. Camera Club members and other interested boys turned out several thousand prints of school affairs under Mr. Foster's direction.

We had our share of dorm meetings this year, too. Especially memorable was the evening that Mr. Scott leaned over the pool table to intone the solemn ultimatum: "I won't have a cat in this dorm even if I have to wring its neck with my own hands!" A cat, at the moment situated under the table where everybody but Mr. Scott could see it, stretched, yawned, and went back to sleep again.

Just before Thanksgiving vacation Mr. Ireland spoke on the occasion at an informal meeting of the boys in the library. He was again present for the cheery Christmas party after the cantata a month later. Here presents were exchanged in a spirit of fun and practical joking by the men of the faculty as well as the younger Holdenites.

After getting his share of the rather special services of the Holden Hall "barbers" Fred Thompson left school just after Christmas to join the navy before turning eighteen. Dave Hays, the renowned "King of Corn" and popular head proctor of the dorm, was called by the Air Corps at about that time. A month later Joe Murray, Dave's roommate, had to leave for the same branch of service.

The dormitory once again held open house amid the flurry of Winter Carnival. All students, faculty, and guests were welcomed on the evening of the second Carnival day. Movies were shown in the library, the game room was open to all, and popcorn and dancing were the highlights downstairs in the big ski room. Besides serving as pianist of the evening, Mr. Thompson was faculty advisor to the committee which prepared the party.

On Saturday night, March 10, the boys gave their annual dorm party. Mr. Emery, new to the faculty this year, was selected as faculty advisor by the appointed committee of Bob Foster, Jay Winter, "Red" Norwood, Russell Cram, and Dave Stone. The proceedings featured an hilarious collection of the boys' baby pictures shown on a screen, a prize tour of the building, dancing in the ski room, games, and the singing of school songs. Refreshments were served by "Red" Norwood and his henchmen in Café Holden (the library).

Since it is generally at an affair like this one that the boys are at their best, perhaps we should pause here before Spring vacation and before we go to press to see just who we have in the dorm.

This year there are seven freshmen. Bill Adams, who did some football managing last fall, proved himself to be a fine freshman—quiet. George Barlow is almost too fine a freshman. Roger Beedy, "Fuzzy" Conrad, Charlie Ross, and Dave Stone have done their best against Pinkham at the pool table all year. Dave also made his mark as the only freshman to receive a football letter. Mark Rines will be noticed wandering about the corridors in his overshoes.

The 12 sophomores are quite a husky bunch. Headed by their tall, table-waiting president, Russell Cram, they are Wayne Allen, the boy with the lace collar; Bob Barlow, the towering champion jitterbug of Boothbay; Larry Clement, who has kept up a rushing business in corsages all year; Stan Cole, who spends most of his time on the basketball floor; John Conrad, the best pool player in room 29; "Rocky" Giles and Dick "Hit-the-deck" Day, the soprano and tenor, respectively of the local Marine recruiting station; Bob Parsons, the J. V. basketball captain; Dave Patrick, the only boy in the dorm to get a tube of lipstick for Christmas; Sterling Peirce, the lad who knows where Bill Melcher's tall stories came from; and Charlie Foote, who now makes a practice of looking before he sits.

Holden's 15 juniors seem to be stronger in number than the representatives of any other class. Their president, Gordon Lawry, better known for three years now as just "Gordy," rooms with Bill Anderson at the end of "Allen's Alley." They are one of the few pairs to get along together all year.

Dan Bennett, who may be found moving furniture between rooms 14 and 16 at almost any time of the day, is the last of a long line of Bennetts from Wilson's Mills. Across the hall from him resides Dick Cram. Dick is the only boy in the dorm who keeps a horse and plow in his closet.

Generally to be found brewing rubber-cement in the darkroom, Martin Bovey is one of several juniors to have been in Holden Hall three years. Another of these elite is Phil Heathcote, the most befuddled Socialist since "Stump". Larry Littlehale is the dorm's mailman and head of the smoking room's "bucket brigade." Other three-year men are Gordon Lawry, Dan Bennett, Earle Dorr, Jack Marshall, and Hollie Sturgis, Holden Hall's champion clown.

When not chasing the cue ball out the pool room window into the snow, Roger Pinkham is usually engaged in entertaining anybody who will listen with his accordion. He left it to melt on a radiator once, but for the most part "the professor" has proved himself a pretty good musician.

"Red" Norwood, another basketball player; Andy Sargent, the good natured waiter from Poland; Dick Sprague, the boy who likes to tinker with radios; and Bill Haines, a late-comer to the dorm, just about round out the junior class in Holden Hall.

The dwindling senior class of the dormitory, though still managing to hold its head high, is now composed of only 11 boys. Of these, two, the Right Honorable Hollie Arthur Bucklin, Jr., and Paul Newton, usually referred to as "Buckie" and "Newt," are taking post graduate courses.

Kermit Allen, North Sedgewick's favorite son, is usually to be seen puzzling something out. If it isn't the algebra, it's the town girls.

Steve Hopkinson and Bob Swift are the only new seniors this year. Steve has earned the name of "Flash" waiting on table, while Bob just smiles his happy navy smile and continues to make friends.

Freeland Savage ("Boug") and Jay Winter room together in 25. "Boug," the class president and Auburn lady-killer, is an industrious student, actor and athlete. Jay, also generally hard at work, is the dorm's favorite fair-haired boy.

"Chris" Robertson of the Holden Hall smoking room is quite the man of wise observations—through the haze.

Last but by no means least we must mention Roy Packard and Bill Moore. The best prize-fights of the year have taken place in their room. Roy, football captain, skier, and pole-vaulter, is the only boy to have lived in Holden Hall for four years—or he was until the draft caught up with him in March. Bill, the drummer-boy of the band, is another popular live-wire on second hall.

These are the 45 boys of all types who have lived together for a brief year in Holden Hall. We don't know where they will all be a few months from now, but wherever they are, they will have a lot of happy memories about each other.

ROBERT FOSTER '45

Footlight Flashes

On Dec. 15 the Dramatic Club kept up its tradition by presenting under Mr. Thompson's direction, three one act plays. "Jazz and Minuet" was a serious and outstanding performance starring Margery Ann Howard, Jay Winter, and Freeland Savage. Mary Lou Chapman did an excellent characterization job of an elderly lady. Mary Sue Adams and Marie White furnished comedy in the roles of maids. Tricky lighting and elaborate costumes made the play a great success. It proved that Gould audiences like serious plays.

The curtain raiser was "The Tangled Web", a light comedy featuring Roger Pinkham as an absent-minded professor, Betty Smith as a tough girl wanting to go straight, and Joan Allen as his aristocratic and snobbish sister. Hollie Sturgis did a fine comic job in portraying a detective.

The closing play required quick changing of scenes and clever lighting facilities. Credit can be equally distributed among the actors and actresses in this play, which included Marilyn Boyker as a charming young wife of Larry Clement, Bill Moore as a tramp, Eddie Dorian as a hard-boiled motor-cycle cop, Virginia Griffin as a hysterical secretary, with minor parts played by Irene Wight, Janice Bowman, Pam Parsons, and Robert Foster.

Under the direction of Mr. Thompson the senior class presented before the usual enthusiastic audience on March 16 "Junior Miss." The play dealt with the trials and tribulations of two adolescent girls. This farce was a great success. The following was the cast of characters:

Barbara Wilson	Judy Graves
Katharine Kellogg	Fuffy Adams
Freeland Savage	Harry Graves
Mary Lou Chapman	Grace Graves
Dorothy York	Ellen Curtis
Willie Moore	Willie Reynolds
Joan Allen	Lois Graves
Mary Sue Adams	Hilda
Paul Newton	Merrill Ferback
Hollie Sturgis	Tommy Arbuckle

Mark Rines
 Roderick Giles
 Robert Foster
 Willard Robertson
 Stephen Hopkinson
 Archie Young
 Jay Winter

Haskell Cummings
 Western Union Boy
 Barlow Adams
 Albert Kunody
 Sterling Brown

Robert Foster and Ruthmarie Malnati served as stage manager and properties manager respectively throughout the year, aided by Phil Heathcote and Donald Brooks on the stage crew of the December production.

Home Economics

The Home Economics Department takes on an increasingly important role in the school's curriculum as it continues to offer new and interesting projects every year. This year's course includes double laboratory periods on alternating days, when the girls have ample time to put to practical use their knowledge of domestic arts. The upper classes in advanced sewing have been making over woolen garments in accordance with the wartime conservation plan, while the freshman and sophomore classes are getting a thorough training in the planning of diets and fully-balanced meals.

In addition to the excellent training of this department, it is also a decided asset to the school, taking an essential part both directly and indirectly in nearly all school activities. Costumes for the plays and musical activities and alterations of band uniforms are made here. This department redecorates its cottage frequently and this year redecorated the recreation room in Gehring Hall.

The "Home Ec" cottage is the scene for many a social gathering on the campus. Teas and dinners for the school organizations are prepared and served here by the students themselves. Under the able guidance of the teacher, Miss Thelma Gallagher, and the cooperation of the pupils, these enterprises are extremely popular and successful.

Plans are being made now for an extended course after the war when the older students will live in the cottage for short periods of time and, under supervision, manage the entire household by themselves.

Front row: Mary Gibbs, Terri Ralph, Pamela Parsons, Virginia Conrad, Priscilla Ring, Barbara Corson, Elizabeth Gibbs, Leslie Griffin, Claire Lapham. Missing: Mary Swasey.

Notes from the Music Department

The musical organizations have done some very fine work this year.

The band has been a colorful and inspiring factor at both the football and basketball games. This year Jay Winter has been drum major with Ann Terriberry and Betsy Grandin as drum majorettes.

The orchestra has provided the music for the three one-act plays, the senior play, and is expected to play at the Science Fair.

Members of the musical organizations have appeared in solo and ensemble numbers on various programs for the Parent Teachers Association, the W. M. S. C. of the Methodist Church, and the Ladies' Club and Guild of the West Parish Congregational Church.

Thirty students are members of the choirs of the two churches and give faithful service throughout the school year.

A male quartet made up of Francis Bean, Roy Lurvey, Robert Foster, and Dexter Stowell has been maintained this year, singing in concerts and on the Chapman Club's morning programs.

The glee clubs have taken part in the Wednesday morning programs, and a concert, including boys', girls' and varsity glee clubs, is planned for this spring.

The Chapman Club has grown in membership this year. Its officers are:

President	MARY GIBBS
Vice President	PRISCILLA CARVER
Secretary	PRISCILLA GOGGIN
Corresponding Secretary	ROBERT FOSTER
Treasurer	DONALD BROOKS

The other members are:

Mary Sue Adams	Roy Lurvey
Joan Allen	Janet Palmer
Francis Bean	Roger Pinkham

Robert Bennett
Barbara Corson
Theodore Emery, Jr.
Claire Lapham
Nellie Lapham
Frances Vinton

Virginia Potter
Priscilla Ring
Helen Smith
Dexter Stowell
Phyllis Tebbets
Marie White

The Wednesday morning programs sponsored by this organization have proved well worth the listening time.

The fall concert was held at the Wm. Bingham Gymnasium, Dec. 6. All the members contributed to a fine program.

This spring the Chapman Club is planning another concert as well as a half-hour broadcast over W.C.S.H. The program for the latter will be as follows:

Allegro Moderato Schubert
Flutes: Helen Smith—Phyllis Tebbets
Clarinets: Priscilla Carver—Theodore Emery
"Deep in My Heart" Romberg
Male quartet: Francis Bean, Roy Lurvey
Robert Foster, Dexter Stowell
Etude in C Minor Chopin
Piano solo: Carolyn Van Dusen
"Connais-tu le pays" from "Mignon" Thomas
Soprano solo: Priscilla Goggin

"Thine Alone" Herbert
Trombone solo: Donald Brooks

"Homeland" Gaines

"Without a Song" Youmans

Mixed Quartet: Priscilla Ring, Priscilla Carver
Barbara Corson, Mary Gibbs

Roy Lurvey, Theodore Emery, Francis Bean,
Dexter Stowell

The Varsity Glee Club presented a Christmas Cantata entitled "Childe Jesus" by Joseph Clokey. The program included many of the old familiar Christmas carols. Mrs. Ireland and Mrs. Lawrence Lord played a fine organ and piano duet. Donald Brooks and Stephen Hopkinson gave a trombone and baritone duet.

Vocalists were as follows:

Interest in all the musical organizations has grown this year. However, a great deal of the credit for the success of each musical organization is due to the interest and aid of Miss Ann Griggs, who directs all the groups.

Commercial

The Commercial Department, which occupies most of the third floor of Hantscom Hall, has undergone several changes this year.

Mr. Myers, former commercial teacher, has accepted the position as assistant treasurer and teaches one class in first year typing and the second year bookkeeping class. The remaining classes are under the capable guidance of Miss Swift, a graduate of Boston University and Katharine Gibbs School.

Many pupils of the junior class this year seem to be very much interested in bookkeeping, typing II, and shorthand. As the seating capacity of the shorthand room is not sufficient, the pupils meet in the bookkeeping room.

The second year typing class does a great deal of outside clerical work, especially typing and mimeographing. Their biggest job is making various programs for the many school activities.

Some of last year's students who seem to be progressing rapidly are Lee Chiera, who has an excellent position in Washington, D. C.; Mildred Olson and Stella Grover also have employment there; and Beatrice Forbes, who is now attending Bliss College in Lewiston. Others have received profitable employment in their own localities or have gone on into a different field.

Any student not planning to go to college and who plans to receive clerical training for future work should look into the possibilities of this commercial course.

Shop Chips

The war's effect has been noted even in the industrial arts shop. Not only has the senior class dwindled to a mere six boys but the department has run into shortages of all kinds in supplies. The lumber situation has been exceptionally bad. Some types of lumber, such as gumwood and all kinds of plywoods, have been impossible to get for more than a year now. Other scarce items are sheet metals of all kinds, electrical supplies, and hardware. The lumber being used is not of the quality which has been available in the past.

The annual industrial arts exhibit was held on Thursday, May 24, in conjunction with a Science Fair sponsored by the Science Club. The exhibit this year could not come up to last year's display, especially in the case of larger furniture, because of the lumber shortage. However, there were more numerous displays of smaller furniture and household articles, such as end tables, gun racks, table lamps, wall lamps, book ends, handkerchief boxes, nut bowls, wall shelves, and such projects.

Enough lumber was salvaged from last year's stock so that Maurice Kendall and John Mills were able to make writing desks. "Bud" Kneeland made a smaller typewriting desk. Tennessee Red Cedar was secured, and from this Lawrence Kendall and John Greenleaf built cedar chests. Another large project completed this year is a gun cabinet by Frank Gibson. This cabinet is divided into two sections, each with a glass door; one is for guns and the other contains shelves for supplies.

A greater display of art metal projects was in evidence during the exhibit. There were numerous metal lamps, novelty pins, ash trays, and candy dishes. Many of the freshman boys turned to this work because there was a supply of metal on hand, while the wood supply was noticeably low.

In the drawing department, the freshmen and sophomores have been doing work in orthographic projection or "working drawings," as they are called. The juniors have been studying and drawing the different types of picture drawings, such as isometric, oblique, cabinet, and perspective drawings. The seniors have been studying machine drawings and sheet metal drawing.

In the straight drafting course there were five boys enrolled. Only four finished the year's course. They were Freeland Savage, Bill Anderson, Stephen Hopkinson, and Frank Gibson.

There are 46 people enrolled in the manual arts course. In the freshman class they are: W. Adams, D. Bennett, J. Browne, L. Brown, A. Coolidge, R. Croteau, D. Foster, R. Grover, I. McAlister, R. Melville, C. Ross, E. Scribner, D. Stone, E. Swain, H. Swan, P. Wight. Sophomores are: R. Barlow, H. Blake, J. Brown, R. Chase, J. Conrad, E. Donahue, R. Gilbert, H. Lyon, C. Melville, R. Parsons, L. Wheeler, R. Giles. Juniors are: D. Bennett, W. Brooke, L. Curtis, E. Dorian, C. Fitzgerald, J. Forbes, A. Fuller, J. Greenleaf, W. Hastings, L. Kendall, L. Littlehale, H. Sturgis. Seniors are: R. Cram, F. Gibson, R. Grover, J. Mills, F. Kneeland, W. Moore.

Much credit is due to the patient guidance of Mr. Ordell Anderson throughout the year.

Track

While the snow was still to be seen amid the Oxford hills the boys got their equipment out from under the moth balls, and the track season was on. Many of the preceeding year's men had left. Among them were John Lawry, Dick Peabody, Bob Townsend, Dave Hawkins, "Ace" Bradlee, and Bill Rutter. However, Dick Bryant, Arnold Bennett, Roy Packard, Francis Gilman, and Dick Walker were ready to form a solid backbone for the new season's team.

A triangular meet with Wilton and Rumford opened the season, the new-comers to the team showing that they could take a few places now and then. The final score was Gould 58, Rumford 29, Wilton 12. The most spectacular event of the day was the Gould field record-breaking high jump by Roy Packard, who jumped 5 ft., 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ in. to beat the old record by $\frac{1}{4}$ in. The results of the meet were as follows:

Mile run: won by Bryant (G); second, Walker (G); third, McDonald (R). Time: 4 min., 58.5 sec.

880 yard run: won by Bryant (G); second, Walker (G); third, McDonald

(R). Time: 2 min., 15.8 sec.

440 yard dash: won by Burgess (R); second, Woodcock (G); third, Winter (G). Time: 57.8 sec.

220 yard dash: won by Burgess (R); second, Winter (G); third, Woodcock (G). Time: 26.4 sec.

100 yard dash: won by Casey (R); second, Coull (W); third, Bennett (G). Time: 11.3 sec.

120 yard low hurdles: won by Bennett (G); second, Casey (R); third, Gilman (G). Time: 15 sec.

High jump: won by Packard (G); second, tie between Davis (G), Moore (G), Sturgis (G), Curtis (W). Height: 5 ft., 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Broad jump: won by Curtis (W); second, Moore (G); third, Davis (G). Distance: 18 ft., 5 in.

Pole vault: tie for first between Packard (G) and Moore (G); third, McDonald (R).

Discus: won by McLeon (R); second, Curley (R); third, Davis (G). Distance: 105 ft.

Shot put: won by Bennett (G); second, Cook (W); third, Gilman (G). Distance: 38 ft., 4 in.

Next on the team's schedule was a meet with Edward Little, which was held on the Bates track. The Huskies took the edge in the jumping and weight events, but the hard running duo comprised of Reny and Cole chalked an even greater edge in the dashes to give the winning points to the Eddies. Final score. Edward Little 57 $\frac{1}{2}$, Gould 50 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Mile run: won by Bryant (G); second, Walker (G); third, Bowman (G). Time: 4 min., 55 sec.

880 yard run: won by Russell (E); second, Bryant (G); third, Walker (G). Time: 2 min., 14.4 sec.

440 yard dash: won by Cole (E); second, Reny (E); third, Winter (G). Time: 54.4 sec.

220 yard dash: won by Cole (E); second, Reny (E); third, Winter (G). Time: 23.9 sec.

100 yard dash: won by Cole (E); second, Reny (E); third, Stetson (G). Time: 10.5 sec.

100 yard low hurdles: won by Gilman (G); second, Dwelley (E); third, Packard (G).

High jump: first, tie between Packard (G) and Davis (G); third, tie between Snowe (E), Gildart (E), Sturgis (G), and Moore (G). Height: 4 ft., 11 in.

Broad jump: won by Snowe (E); second, Davis (G); third, Stetson (G). Distance: 18 ft., 7 in.

Pole vault: first, tie between Collins (E) and Packard (G); third, Moore (G). Height: 9 ft., 9 in.

Discus: won by Snowe (E); second, Gilman (G); third, Bennett (G). Distance: 95 ft., 10 in.

Shot put: won by Bennett (G); second, Gilman (G); third, Gildart (E). Distance: 18 ft., 3 in.

Javelin: won by Larrabee (E); second, Dwelley (E); third, Gildart (E). Distance: 188 ft., 3 in.

The final meet of the season for the Blue and Gold was the state meet at Colby College in Waterville. Although the team took places in almost every event, Gould was fourth in the final count. Cheverus took first place with 34 points, Old Orchard second with 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ points, Mat-tanawcook third with 24 points, and Gould with 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ points.

The highlights of the day was Roy Packard's winning high jump of 5 ft., 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. and his try at the class B record, which he missed. He also proved himself by taking fourth in the pole vault.

Dick Bryant placed a close second in the mile and beat the class A time by 15 seconds. He also came through for the Huskies with a third in the 880 yard run.

Francis Gilman took a second place for the Huskies in the hurdles, and Arnold Bennett chalked up another in the shot put, and a fourth in the discus. Dick Walker pulled down a fourth in the mile.

This completed the season for the Blue and Gold tracksters, but there was a feeling that something had been accomplished and a good record had been made. One win, one loss, and fourth place in a meet with all the Pine Tree State's track stars participating. It was with regret that the team turned in its equipment to call it quits for another year. All due credit is given to "Joe" Roderick, without whom the success of the team could never have been realized. WILLIAM MOORE '45

Baseball

10 WINS — 2 LOSSES

After several weeks' practice inside Gould's fine field house cage, Coach Myers was able to field a hard-hitting baseball team for its first game at Rumford. The 1944 season's opener unveiled a slugging newcomer in the person of "Big Bill" Swasey, who connected for two triples in his first game, and the team as a whole, destined to win ten out of 12 games, was in mid-season form.

The starting lineup placed Ken McInnis on the mound and Eddie Dorian behind the plate, with George Bryant guarding the initial sack, Archie Young at second, Tom Jacobs at short, and Hiram Berry ably performing at the hot corner. The outfielders were: Al Emery in left field, Stan Merrill, Jim Reid, and "Red" Sanborn in center, and Bill Swasey in right. Merrill often saw service as a moundsman and proved an able relief pitcher as well as a starter.

Offensively, five regulars batted over the select .300 circle, with Emery sporting a phenomal .408 to lead his mates in that department. Bryant, Emery, Swasey, Merrill, Reid, and Dorian were always potent, any of whom could break a game wide open with a booming whallop far over an opposing fielder's head. On the defense Bryant, Emery, Merrill, and Dorian played almost without flaw, while Young and Berry came up with some amazing stops.

With the end of the '44 season Mr. Myers retired as baseball coach for Gould and is replaced this year by Mr. Emery.

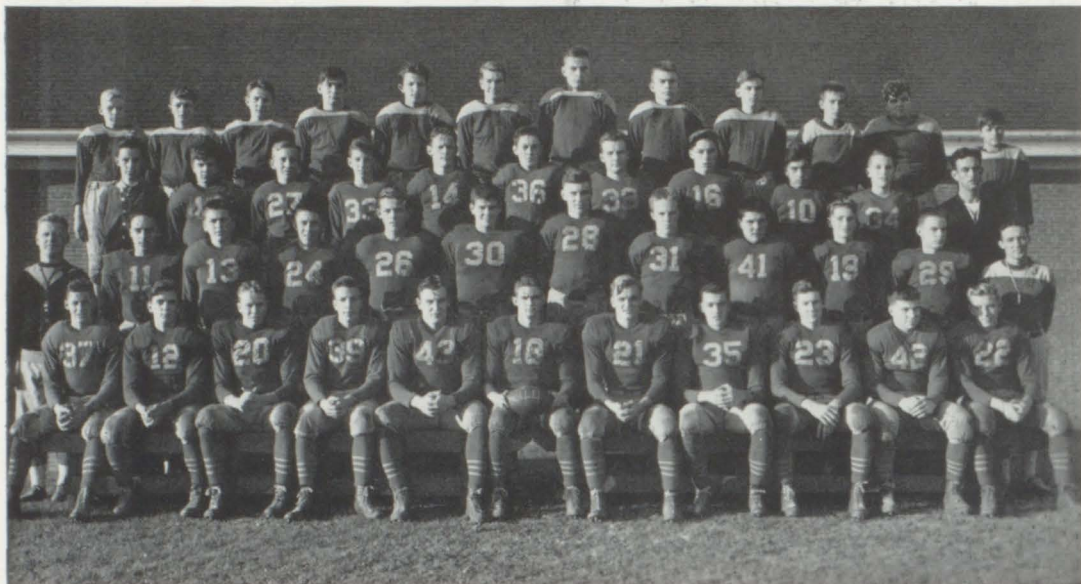

Gould is greatly indebted to Mr. Myers, whose service to Gould has been excellent in the past years as coach of America's national pastime.

Football

2 WINS—4 LOSSES

When football training started two or three weeks before the first game last fall, we could see the big warm-up circle on the athletic field every afternoon.

Although we had lost all but three letter-men from last year, the coaches found a lot of new material. There were many more freshmen out this year than last, which meant there would be a good supply on hand in a few years.

When the first game rolled along Coach Scott had made the starting line-up something like this: Roy Packard, captain, left end; Frank Gibson, left tackle; Bill Swasey, left guard; Donald Brooks, center; Albert Smith, right tackle; Dexter Stowell, right guard; and Eddy Dorian, right end. The back-field: Archie Young, number one back; Phil Heathcote, quarter-back; Jay Winter and Kermit Allen, third and fourth back positions. David Stone was the team's main passer and played number four back position with Kermit Allen.

The Berlin game was first on the list, and Gould scored in the first quarter, leading the Mountaineers 6-0 at the half. The home team lacked the punch necessary to win and the game ended 7-6 in favor of Berlin.

The team was a little more anxious to win now that it had been beaten once, and the boys trained hard for the Fryeburg game. The gang was still green and it couldn't get together. After the half the game was lost 18-6.

Nearly the whole team went to Norway for the next game and was set on winning. Gould did the trick, 18-0, in spite of the rain and wind. That hard-hitting punch, lacking in the last games, was there on that Saturday.

Maybe it was too much for them, but when the Huskies went to South Paris they collapsed completely and lost 25-0. The boys seemed to shy from the Paris team's Sterns, a heavy, fast man.

Gould had never lost to Wilton, the next scheduled team, and the Wiltonites were bent on beating the Gould eleven. The Huskies had turned into a real team by that game and the Wilton doctor had plenty of business to attend to. The final score was 14-7 in Wilton's favor, her last two touchdowns being scored in the last period.

The team hit Mexico hard in their last game the following week and whipped them 13-0. It was a fine game to watch, and everybody got a chance to play.

Somehow the Huskies had turned into a real ball team in those last few weeks, and they played for keeps. This year's green team will be much more experienced next year, and great things are expected. The victories of 1945 will be payment enough for this year's weak season.

Credit for the fine training the boys received goes to Coaches Scott, Roderick, and Emery.

WILLIAM ANDERSON '46

Basketball

3 WINS — 11 LOSSES

The result in basketball games won and lost during the 1944-'45 season is grim evidence that the loss of the five regulars of last year's team has been most keenly felt. When Coach Anderson looked over his new squad, early in November, he had only one letter man, Archie Young. With so many new and inexperienced players the task of finding five likely starters was a tough one. New combinations were frequently tried, but a real winning team could not be found. The team started off with a bang, producing a win over Gorham. It was destined to taste victory only twice more, while dropping 11. The team of '45, however, played several closely contested games and was nosed out only by bigger, more experienced rivals. One of the major factors lacking in the quintet was height. Throughout the year this proved to be a decided handicap in the play off the backboard.

It is interesting to note that the present team amassed a total of 408 points, only seven points shy of the last team's total, yet it won only three games, while the team of 1943-'44 won 12. The noticeable fact is that the team this year was unable to keep down the score of its opponents.

The boys who played regularly and won their "G's" were Captain Archie Young, Captain-elect Gordon Lawry, Kermit Allen, Wayne Allen, Herbert Lyon, and Adelbert Norwood. Other players who saw service as varsity reserves were Ted Emery, Dexter Stowell and David Stone. Fenton Robertson was also a member until called into the service.

Graduation will be a little more lenient this year, taking only two of the regular players, Archie Young and Kerm Allen. These two were the individual high scorers of the year, netting 100 and 110 points respectively. However, prospects for the future look exceptionally bright because of the fact that of the 15 men on the squad 13 will return. Of these four are lettermen and numerous others have now had valuable experience in reserve roles. The team of '46 looks as if it will shape up to be a winner.

THEODORE EMERY '46

Winter Sports

We skiers didn't know the thrill of snow sliding under our skis quite so early this year as last, but that was good from the ski team's viewpoint — we got in plenty of work on the ski trails and slopes before Old Man Winter really closed in for good. Ski classes were started under the supervision of Miss Newman and Mr. Myers, and those going out for the ski team got in a few practice sessions before the holidays.

After Christmas, our ski enthusiasts really turned out en masse. They've been making great progress, from class one right through to class four, and two or three of the girls in class four are becoming excellent skiers.

The ski team also began its work in earnest. Those going out for the team were Captain Eddie Dorian, letterman Roy Packard, Jay Winter, Freeland Savage, Phil Heathcote, Martin Bovey, and Bob Croteau. Bill Moore has been our hard-working manager, with Dave Patrick as his humble assistant. They, as well as Coach Myers and those who have provided transportation, deserve a lot of credit for having made our trips and the value we've received from them possible.

Packard and Dorian were the only two lettermen returning. They, with Winter, have been our main point scorers, with Bovey and Savage in close support. Jay's strong point is cross-country, while Roy and Eddie have been competent in slalom and downhill. Eddie and Bob Croteau are foremost in jumping, with Winter, Bovey and Packard backing them up. Savage's and Bovey's strongest events are slalom and downhill. Heathcote gave a good account of himself in several cross-country and downhill races, and was always right in there forerunning the others.

After little more than a week of regular practice, the team traveled to the Northern New England Championships held at Berlin, N. H., on Jan. 26 and 27. The competing schools were Berlin, Lebanon, and Laconia from New Hampshire, with Andover, Edward Little, and Gould representing Maine. Snow conditions were excellent, but we were handicapped by lack of practice as well as by the absence, through injuries, of Dorian and Bovey. In the cross-country, held Friday afternoon, Andover's smooth-working team captured second and third places, putting her in the lead. Packard and Winter took seventh and eighth places in that order. After an evening spent with the hospitable members of the Berlin team, we went out to the hill for the slalom and downhill races. Edward Little walked away with first place in each event. Winter took fourth place in the slalom, and we had to be content with fifth place in each event. A strong wind in the afternoon made jumping conditions anything but ideal. Winter, Croteau, and Packard constituted our jumping team, and they made a game showing despite their inexperience. The teams placed in the following order: Edward Little, Andover, Berlin, Lebanon, Gould and Laconia.

After another week of hard practice the team met, on Feb. 2 and 3, the teams of Norway, Berlin, Lewiston, and Edward Little at the latter's carnival. We got off to a good start by taking second in the downhill race on Friday afternoon. Bovey and Winter were in top form, taking second and third places respectively. We again spent an enjoyable evening with members of the Auburn ski team. Saturday morning Bovey placed third in the slalom race, and with a good team score we again took second place. We also took second place in the cross-country, with Winter and Dorian taking fifth and sixth places, but the team dropped to third in jumping. The final results:

Edward Little	386.47
Berlin	353.66
Gould	331.70
Norway	303.52
Lewiston	259.53

On the week-end of Feb. 10, we met the Bates V-12 team right here on our own grounds. The courses were familiar ground to Norm Jacobs and Dick Woodcock, Gould alumni on the Bates team.

The places were as follows:

Cross-country: Winter, Packard, Bovey, Dorian, and Savage, all of Gould.

Slalom: Packard (G), Jacobs (B), Dorian (G), Chapman (B), Winter (G).

Jumping: Dorian, Croteau, Winter, and Packard of Gould, and Jacobs of Bates.

Downhill: Dorian (G), Packard (G), Jacobs (B), Savage (G), Winter (G).

The results were:

Gould	395
Bates	337

On Feb. 17, Berlin came down from the mountains to meet a team whose confidence had been bolstered by its recent win. The results were:

Cross-country: Packard (G), Reid (B), Winter (G), Lumblad (B), Dorian (G).

Slalom: Dorian (G), Winter (G), Olson (B), Reid (B), Savage (G).

Jumping: Reid (B), Baker (B), Dorian (G), Votour (B), Packard (G).

Downhill: Packard (G), Savage (G), Votour (B), Bovey (G), Reid (B).

On February 23 and 24, we held our own Winter Carnival. Friday afternoon began with a hard fought game between Gould's basketball team and the Fryeburg team, which we lost, 38-24. The cross-country began at 4:30. Andover took first place against a field of Berlin, Gould, Edward Little, and Norway teams. Winter and Packard came through for Gould to give their team second place.

At 8:00 Friday evening the team acted as escort to Carnival Queen Mary Swasey, after which we received her best wishes for success in the meet.

Slalom was the only event scheduled for Saturday morning. The hill was icy from a recent rain, which made a downhill run definitely out of the question. Roy of Norway made a fine showing, but his team had to be content with fifth place. Berlin was in first place, leading Edward Little by ten points. Gould was a close third.

The only remaining event, jumping, took place Saturday afternoon. Berlin, paced by Reid, took first place, with Gould next and Andover third. The longest jump, tied between Reid of Berlin and Roberts of Edward Little, was 80 feet on the small jump. The final scores:

Berlin	281.62
Andover	268.27
Gould	266.80
Edward Little	255.39
Norway	189.63

On March 3, the team traveled to Andover for a contest with its host and the Mexico team. The cross-country was run at 11:00 in the morning, in the midst of a drizzling rain. Andover captured first place. Winter came in second, with Dorian, Bovey and Savage coming in fourth, sixth, and seventh to give Gould a close second.

The downhill, jumping, and slalom events were held after a community lunch in the town hall. Dorian, Bovey and Savage placed second, fourth and fifth to give us another close second. Indeed, the final results showed that the Huskies were doomed to "close seconds." Our luck continued in the slalom and we came in second again, with Eddie and Jay taking first and third places. Andover proved far superior in the jumping, garnering 99.01 points to 94.83 points for Gould. The final results:

Andover	384.39
Gould	376.51
Mexico	144.90

This proved to be our final meet. A trip to Lyndon, Vt., had been planned, but snow conditions were such that the high point of the season had to be canceled.

If the number of wins is taken as a measure of success, then perhaps the Huskies of 1945 have not been as successful as last year's team. However, we've worked well as a team, all winning our letters, manager included, and always maintaining a better than average team score. We've had some fun on our trips and we've met a grand bunch of fellows. Next year holds bright prospects, with Captain Dorian, Bovey and Croteau returning, as well as a new addition in the form of Dick Ireland. Of course we don't want to get anyone's hopes up, but there are rumors abroad that Bob Reid may be here in the dorm next year.

Best of luck, fellows!

BLUE AND GOLD STAFF

The Blue and Gold

In its third year of existence the Blue and Gold has aimed to build upon the achievements of its former two editors, Robert Golderman, '43, now fighting in the South Pacific, and Ann Aldrich, '44, now attending Barnard College. Under the competent editorship of Robert Foster, who hopes to enter the field of journalism after the war, the size of the paper has been enlarged from four to five printed columns and standardized. The staff, too, has been larger than ever before.

In the first of the year's 10 issues, distributed Sept. 27, the best columns of the preceding year were continued and several new ones added, including Opinions Appreciated and A Graduate of Gould. The attempt to broaden the paper's news content was more evident and successful in each successive issue. The pages have been made more interesting by the use of more pictures than ever before. Also originated this year is the custom of monthly staff meetings at which an attempt was made to instruct the members in the writing of feature and news articles. A new and more efficient system of circulation was adopted, and the Blue and Gold joined the Columbia Interscholastic Press Association.

The special Winter Carnival issue was sent to more than 300 members of Gould's alumni in the armed forces, and included a number of special features on the 1945 carnival for their benefit. Plans are now underway for a special Commencement issue.

This year's staff officers have included Margery Ann Howard, assistant-editor, and David Hays, business manager, who was replaced by Terri Ralph when he left for the army in January. Carolyn Bryant has been advertising manager and Gordon Lawry circulation manager. Mr.

Thompson has continued as the BLUE AND GOLD's faculty advisor, always ready to help with suggestions and criticisms when consulted by the staff.

GIRLS' A. A. COUNCIL

Girls' Physical Education

Highlighting girls' physical education, 1944, was the annual gym meet held in April. All four classes displayed in fine style the results of a year's work. For gymnastics, apparatus work, and class song, judged on a competitive basis, coveted top honors went to the seniors.

With warm weather's first appearance came that longing to be out-of-doors, and at length intra-mural softball teams were organized and a tennis tournament posted for the more individually-minded.

This fall new students became accustomed to the regular classes in gymnastics, apparatus, and modern dancing, along with the popular correctives. Every six weeks a group of prospective graduates from the latter class underwent posture tests, and the more zealous found themselves enjoying an extra study period.

Perhaps it was due to autumn's invigorating air; at any rate, the hockey enthusiasts flocked together and were soon busily driving, dribbling and evading some novice and some experienced archers close-by. Winning scores, results of class tournaments in both sports, were held by the juniors.

Hardly had the first snow-fall been trampled when the lists of skiing classes and their requirements were posted. The latter included everything from snow-plow to slalom. However, as Mr. Myers and Miss Newman have repeatedly said, simply attending classes is not enough. It is extra practice which brings perfection.

On a par with skiing in popularity is basketball, and, in spite of the fact that the boys were obliged to use the Bingham Gym for late practices, the classes played off a tournament. The juniors again chalked up a victory in a championship game between the two upper classes.

Badminton this year attracted a large group, but because of the length of the tournament, results are still in the balance as this is written.

As usual, much credit is due the Girls' Athletic Council. In addition to their regular duties, taking attendance and checking equipment, the members have helped to raise money by selling "cokes" and tickets at home games. They also sponsored a very successful "Country Fair" last fall and participated in the Freshman Party.

Now that it has concluded another year, many are wondering just what the girls' physical education program has meant to its participants. As a school, Gould has been able to compare its physical fitness with school averages throughout the state. For some individuals it signifies a successful training of their physical abilities and improvement of their inabilities. For others, who, as underclassmen, were doubtful of their future careers and who perhaps did not even enjoy gym at the start, it will mean further study and positions as teachers and camp counselors, due to the wonderful guidance, enthusiasm, and patience of their teacher. Whatever the significance, we all feel the desire to pay tribute to Miss Newman and wish her every success in the future.

TERRI RALPH '45

Boys' Physical Education

Much the same system has been employed in the boys' physical education classes this year as in preceding years. The underclassmen have gym scheduled every other day, while on alternating days there are special individual corrective classes for those boys who have poor posture or any similar weakness. This extra attention early in the boys' high school career helps immensely in fitting them for the more advanced training and gruelling workouts which will be introduced to them in their junior and senior years.

The upper-classmen have a required, daily gym program. However, during the football season, boys out for football taking five major subjects were permitted to remain in study hall during their gym period.

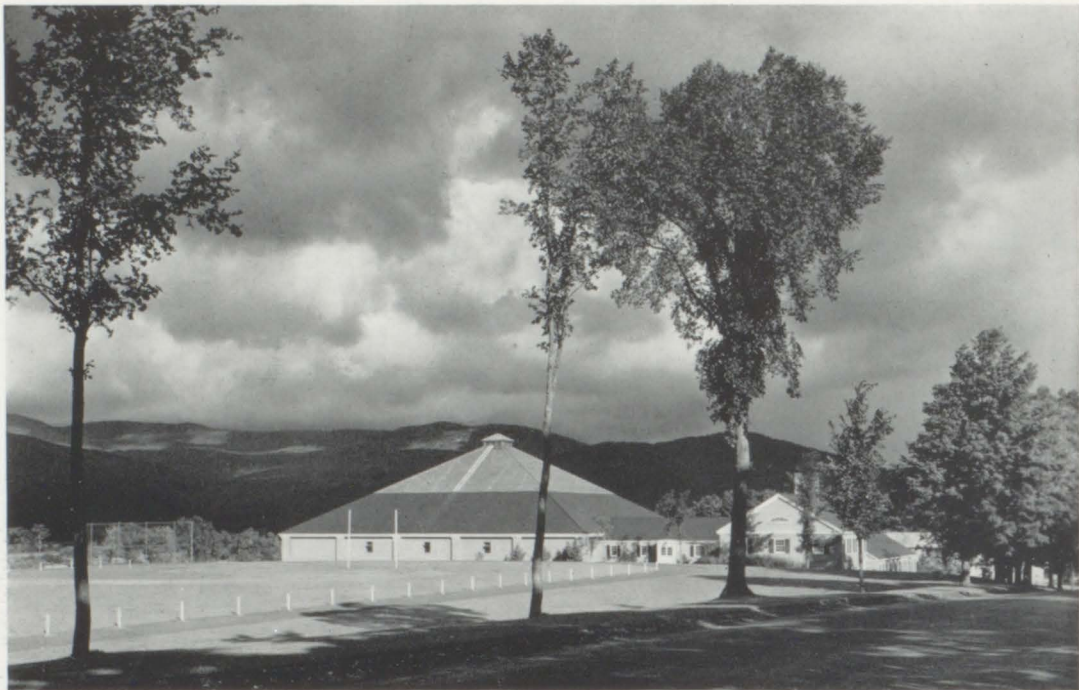

Throughout the fall and early spring "Joe" Roderick, the well-liked instructor, stresses commando course work, which should help condition boys for the armed services. In the winter, calisthenics, boxing, wrestling, apparatus, and tumbling are brought to the fore.

This year the school has purchased a new piece of apparatus, the tramp-o-line. This consists of a springy canvas mat stretched tightly in the center of a metal frame. There is no limit to the number of bouncing stunts which can be performed on this "tramp." Moreover, it is of great benefit to those who never before were able to do back and front flips and many other more difficult maneuvers on mere springless mats.

Every four weeks "Joe" gives the juniors and seniors a series of tests designed to show their progress or lack of progress in physical development. Included in these tests are push-ups, L-test, dips, standing broad jump, sit-ups, and five laps on the indoor track for time. The average number of push-ups for this group is 35; pull-ups, nine; and dips, 15. The standing broad jump averages about seven feet. All other tests are on a time basis. The fellows average 12 seconds on the L-test, five laps in approximately two minutes, 15 seconds, and about 35 or 40 sit-ups in one minute. As a rule these tests show definite improvement from month to month.

Quite frequently "Joe" receives letters from boys in the armed services praising the type of physical education and conditioning given at Gould. Moreover, these Gould alumni encourage even more of the body-toughening exercises and state the importance of the same in their service careers.

Near the end of each school year a boys' gym exhibition is put on for the purpose of displaying the result of a year's work. Each class exhibits one particular phase of gym training. In last year's exhibition the freshmen handled a formation jump-roping routine, elementary tumbling, and a volleyball game. The sophomores showed their skill in building pyramids, while the juniors handled advanced tumbling and all apparatus routines. The seniors burlesqued a baseball game to the tune of the well-known song, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," with clowns continually interfering. The conclusion of the evening's performances was a group of statuary very effectively done on the stage by the seniors, utilizing vari-colored spotlights.

Much credit is due director "Joe" Roderick for adapting his athletic program to the needs of the service-age boys. "Joe" is well-liked because he never hesitates to give of his spare time to any boy desiring extra supervision.

JAY WINTER '45

Camera Club

Once more Mr. Gayle Foster has taken the Gould Camera Club under his wing and guided it through a year of work and fun. This year has been extremely successful, and many things have been accomplished.

The positions of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer were filled by Robert Foster, Martin Bovey, Freeland Savage, and Betty Gibbs, respectively. It was the second term of office for Bob and Martin, which confirmed the rumored opinion that the members were well satisfied with their work of the previous season.

Every Friday the members of the club have met either in the lecture room or in one of the dark rooms to learn something more pertaining to that "box" that remains a mystery to most of us. Each week something different has been taken up. Members have learned how to use various cameras correctly, how each part works, and the different types that are sold. The kinds of paper and film to use has been discussed along with how to arrange subjects so that they will be well-balanced and attractive to the eye, the kinds of developing agents that may be used and how to use them, and many more useful and interesting information.

Each member has had the opportunity to develop some of his pictures in the large Holden Hall darkroom. Many of the results were unexpected, to say the least. How to handle equipment was a fundamental issue with everyone. Whoever wished to do so could help with the making of the thousands of post cards and other prints which have helped so much to show our out-of-town friends some of our sports and snow scenes, dances, plays, and other school affairs. The club is also responsible for the snapshot pages in the HERALD and many illustrations which have appeared in The Blue and Gold throughout the year.

The duty of cleaning up the dark rooms and keeping them in order was purely voluntary this year. Mr. Foster and his helpers have done a great deal of work in this particular field.

Plans for the remainder of the year include the displaying of prints sent to the club by nationally known salon exhibitors.

There are great plans for this year's June exhibition. Although last year's was very good and represented much time and effort, the camera fans want to make this year's even better. All look forward to a wonderful show of prints culminating another fine year for the Camera Club.

Science Club

Since other schools failed to show sufficient interest in participating in an interscholastic Science Fair last May, the Gould Academy Science Club went ahead with a fair within the school. After much preparation on the part of the participants, the club, Mr. Cobb, and Mr. Foster, it was presented May 16. Talks and demonstrations were judged by the principal and the science teacher of Gorham, N. H., High School. First prize of $10.00 was awarded to Robert Foster for his demonstration on the toning of photographic prints and lantern slides. Second prize of $7.50 went to Lillian Coburn and Alice Pierce for their talk on blood and plasma. Jacqueline Autor received third prize of $5.00 for her presentation of "The Stars as We See Them." Other participants were Milford Dennett, Larry Clement, and Priscilla Carver. There were also three exhibits: Dick Woodcock's instrument for measuring wind velocity won $3.00; Barbara Hastings received $2.00 for her exhibit of moths and butterflies; third prize of $1.00 went to Gene Van for his exhibit of the parts of a telephone.

This year the Science Club is made up of 14 members and Mr. Emery, its sponsor. The officers are as follows:

President	Priscilla Carver
Vice President	Ted Emery
Secretary	Barbara Hastings
Treasurer	Freeland Savage

Meetings are held every other Monday night with some sort of program at each. The "scientific facts" with which each member answers the roll call add interest to the meetings. A series of movies on various phases of science has also made the meetings something to look forward to.

As usual, those who are interested have carried on projects, looking ahead to a Science Fair in the spring. Some of the subjects this year are glass, copying and slide making, growing crystals, blood typing, studying the weather, and making a model house with lights and plumbing. We know that all those who have carried on projects have gained knowledge on subjects they might not otherwise have dipped into and in addition have had a good time doing so. This is the goal of the club, and although a relative few have taken part, in helping those few the club has accomplished something.
